DATE October 13rd, 1970.SUBJECT: GASOLINE TANK, ALL TYPES.

Up to the serial number 26293 on the 1971 models, the steering column may be in contact with the gasoline tank.

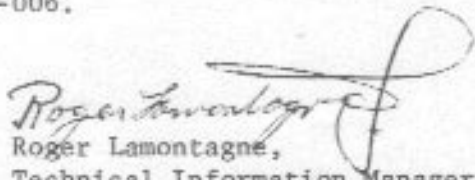

This condition can be determined when the tank is damaged by the end of the steering column.

A modified reservoir, part number 70-11-003, is available at the Central Parts Depot and may be ordered through the usual channels. All the gasoline tanks, subject to this circular, have to be returned to your distributor for inspection.

This operation will carry the STO Number 49-006, and has to appear on all the claims submitted. A flat rate of .75¢ is allowed for this operation.

From the serial number 26294, the lower steering support is modified by a joggle which lift the steering column 1/2", leaving a clearance between the end of the column and the tank.

This modification permits the use of the old type gasoline tank and should not be changed under this STO number 49-006.
